

A senator once voted for what his constituents needed,—not for what they wanted. He isn't in the senate now.

September

9. We register today.
Home Economics mixer.
Five hundred and eleven STUDENTS STRIKE up acquaintances, hopefully questing old notebooks.
10. We're all in our places, some with and some without. Sign the card and get out.
11. Y. W. C. A. Frosh reception picnic.
The Sophs send their representatives out to take the annual Frosh ducking: Graf, Waniga, the Harmons.
12. Church receptions. P'st! Which serves the most eats?
16. Sophs tug to victory under the able supervision of Carl Roll.
17. Last time Little Sisters give Big Sisters a party.
18. First Stoutonia out.
20. Bill Murray tangled up with a Yo Yo in practice class.
23. Jean Homemaker arrives.
24. Sophs MOVED into Lynwood. Bill Miller chewed the paint off the iron furniture.
27. Physical exams for women. Someone thinks Charleston is Dr. Blom.

Convalescence is that state in which you become aware of your nurse's charms,—if any.

---

29. Once again the Frosh, excepting Pat O'Connor, knelt to pay homage to the "orange". The belt brigade left a very smart impression.
  30. Whiskers show Stout spirit.

October

1. Lynwood Unharmonic Orchestra meets for first practice with new song, "You're Driving Me Crazy!"
2. According to Mr. Price: "We believe in clubs for women, if kindness fails."
3. College pictures taken. Cryderman wore a hair-net to bed,—to keep in the wave.
4. W. A. A. candy sale.
5. Precedent established. H. Quilling the first woman editor of the Stoutonia.
7. Home-coming plans brewing. Ready to uncork soon.
8. Lurnie: "There was something I wanted to tell you, but I've forgotten what it was."
- Gail: "Was it good-night?"
11. Another letter from Heinie, warning us that Jocko is coming, to give the "wimmen a brake". On your toes, boys!
16. Decorations begin. "Work, for the night is coming!"
17. Detroit sent representatives in paper boxes.
"Tons of Money" by the M. A. P.'s.

A hick town is the place where men who can't pay the grocer know just how to invest the widow's insurance money.

18. Pep assembly. Old cheerleaders officiate.
20. Emma Newby: "A chicken, please."
Carl Hoernamann: "Do you want a pullet?"
Emma Newby: "No, I want to carry it."
24. Lyceum reservations. Nobody shaved that morning.
25. E. W.: "I'm in love with the most beautiful girl in the world."
D. M.: "And I like you too."
27. Hyperian popcorn sale. Mr. Welch unable to attend classes.
Mr. Ree production. 'Nuff said.
28. To the vacuum cleaner: The only sucker that was ever popular.
29. Rushing season opens. Frosh women feast.
30. Jurien Hoekstra sings in assembly. Myrtle Anderson (in front row): "And did you see his teeth?"

November

1. The team journeys to Eau Claire. In the absence of the music, the band entertained with several deaf and dumb selections.
2. Smallpox again present in the metropolis.
4. M. Wahl: "Look how dirty those players are getting."
Stori: "What do you think we have a scrub team for?"
6. Farmers' convention. "No smoking in the halls."

It is still too early to tell why half the Democrats will be mad at their candidate next year.

8. We have been advised: "When you bring her home with the milkman, and papa is on the porch with artillery, be nonchalant—light OUT."
12. Carol McClurg: "Are those plus-fours?"
Bill Huntington: "They were before they were washed. They're minus sixes now."
14. Home Economics Club dance, "Bowery, Sidewalks of Paris." Woodbutchers travel to Beloit. H. M. Hanson caught in the swinging doors of the Post Office.
15. Stoutonia reporter: "Does hand-shaking pay?"
Senior: "Well, it has kept me in school."
17. Rusty reports that his church mice caddies are ready for work.
18. Eloise Larson reports for tumbling in anticipation of the opening of the dancing class.
19. Guelson dons the red flannels.
20. Stout leads again. Talkies and radio are installed.
21. Sez Nauta: "If Thanksgiving comes on Sunday, is Monday a holiday?"
22. De Molay Formal. A good time was to be had. Did you have it?
24. Prexy initiates new pool with stag party.
27. Thanksgiving. "Sorry, but the rules—three percent cuts."

JUNIORS

Junior Class

THREE years have sped on their way, and what years they have been,—marked by attainments not only in scholastic and athletic lines, but in campus activities as well. In striving to accomplish our many freshman ambitions, we have given little thought to anything but carrying on the traditions and high ideals of Stout. If we were to recall the past a bit—well—space doesn't permit us that pleasure.

One year remains during which we may add our contributions to the ever growing spirit of Stout. With the "will to do" we promise that our contribution will not be a small one.

We may look upon the class of '31 with envy, but deep down in our hearts we are eagerly awaiting the time when we shall hold that coveted position from which they are retiring.

Football—1930

FOOTBALL, in 1930, started with a squad of fifty-two men reporting. After a few strenuous weeks of practice, the squad was cut to thirty-three. Twenty-two men and two managers received letters, with seven men receiving numerals. The season was not successful from the standpoint of wins and losses, but a good sixty minutes of football was guaranteed every Saturday. The team developed from green, raw material into a fighting squad well versed in fundamentals. The bright spot of football is that eighteen of the lettermen will report next fall; the team may also draw material from a few men who have transferred from other schools and from the incoming freshmen. A good season is looked for next year.

Last fall, after a week's practice, the team went to Winona to play the Teachers, but the boys showed their inexperience. The following Saturday Macalester completely outplayed our team the first half—a fighting Stout team took the field the second half and played a great defensive game. Then came Stevens Point, our first conference game—a close game with hard breaks. After a misunderstanding had brought the soldiers to Menomonie and had sent our team to Minneapolis, the two teams played at Fort Snelling, in the dark, without the aid of lights. River Falls offered a fine game on a terrible day—breaks with the wind, a superior, experienced team; the Falls won in the last quarter. At Eau Claire our team did its best work—outgained and outfought Eau Claire but could not score. The final game against La Crosse was a thriller—a good defensive game—with mental lapses darkening the day for Stout.

We hope the experience gained this year will benefit our team next year. Spitznagle was elected backfield captain; Stori was elected line captain.

JOHN E. RUDE

John more than fulfilled our expectations as a plucky wingman. The burden of captain fell upon his shoulders; he carried his responsibility well. When a forward pass appeared on the horizon, John had glue on his hands and Mercury's sandals on his feet. He leaves us this year. We lose the best when we lose him.

JULIUS N. NELSON

Sue possessed the ability of taking advantage of what holes he could find, and of making his own when there were none to be found. He has two more years of competition; we expect much of him.

GEORGE BIWER

Butch, although short-changed by nature, possessed the fight which made him the fly-wheel in the Blue and White engine. He was a good blocker and a hard tackler. He is expected to bolster the line again next year.

HENRY A. HARMON

Harmon's sole purpose on the field was to play football. His playing was marked by intense spirit and fight as well as by unusual ability. His defensive work at fullback was always deserving of praise; he was a hard man to keep out of the play.

LEROY E. MYRELL

The experience which Myrell gained on this year's squad will be of value to him in his next two years of competition. When called upon to play, he proved steady and dependable.

HAROLD MATSON

Matson was one of the most consistent ground gainers in the Blue and White train. His running and stamina won him recognition as one of the mainstays of the backfield.

GERALD E. DECKER

Decker, a yearling, was one of the hardest tacklers on the team and rarely failed to get what he was after. He is fast and follows interference well. He blocks with the same gusto with which he tackles.

DAVID D. BITTER

Bitters held up the tackle position on the other side of Cronk. His playing showed real style when time and again he broke through the enemy's line to smear backfield men for losses.

ANSEL L. ANDERSON

Ans developed into a speedy end. His rangy build and speed increased the efficiency of the aerial attack. He has two years in which to secure more honors.

GLENN JOHNSON

"Tuffy" gave a good account of himself at every turn. He was a dependable lineman, performing best on the defensive. He did much toward the team's production.

DAVID STORI

Playing a wing for the first time, Dave displayed a fine brand of football. His ability to spill interference and his fleetness of foot were deserving of special notice. His punting had both longitude and placement. He will captain the line next year.

WILLIAM I. MICHEELS

Overcoming the handicap of size, Bud gained more than a few yards for our side. His tackling in the open and his ability to squirm through small holes were features of his play. He matched brains against beef and won. Nothing need be said about his control of the skin when aerial attacks were the order of the day.

JOE J. SPITZNAGLE

It was Spitz's ability to shake off opposing tacklers which enabled him to get away with substantial gains in hard conflicts. He will captain the team next year. Show us the same, Spitz.

JOHN P. HARMON

Jack was an ideal man for either guard or tackle position. He played a steady, progressive game that showed football genius in the rough. We'll watch him more closely next year.

ANTHONY KUKAR

Kukar was a newcomer to the squad who developed into a real center. His services will be missed next fall.

ARTHUR L. DEHLINGER

Art started the season at tackle but was later shifted to end. One of the scrappiest players on the team, his specialty was tackling punt receivers just as they caught the ball. He will be back next year.

JEFFERSON R. CRONK

Jeff could always be depended upon to hold up his end on the defensive, and tear it down on the offensive. Stonewall Jackson had nothing on Cronk. There is a tackle berth waiting for him next year.

LEWIS G. PALMER

As a guard, Palmer deserves much credit. His steady, progressive type of play was a great asset to the team. His ability to run interference aided the team's offense. He has one more year of competition.

THEODORE V. BIELECKI

That practice makes perfect was proven by Bielecki's handling of the pivot position. When he lent his support to the line, that particular section had about as much give as a concrete wall. Well done, Bielecki.

JOSEPH A. NEUDECKER

Joe was an important cog in the Blue and White's scoring machine. His signal was the one to call when the opponent's goal line was within scoring distance. Joe's ability to leave the immediate vicinity at will marked him as one of the speediest halves in the conference.

ORGANIZATIONS

The Stout Student Association

EVERY student, upon enrollment and payment of the student activity fee, automatically becomes a member of the Stout Student Association.

The purposes of this organization are: to distribute the assigned portions paid into the association treasury to the activities incorporated, the Athletic Association, Lyceum Course, Stoutonia, Manual Arts Players, Band, Men's Glee Club, Women's Glee Club, and the Enharmonic Orchestra; to provide one social event for each month of the school term; to take charge of Home-coming and partial charge of Commencement; to regulate activities of student organizations by maintaining both a weekly and a yearly calendar; and to act in the promotion of school spirit.

The officers of the association act as representatives of the student body before the joint faculty-student committee, and all student voice and opinions are transmitted to the officers of the administration through the officers of the S. S. A.

The work of the S. S. A. this year consisted chiefly in aiding to perfect a more functionable joint student-faculty committee, to re-organize the S. S. A. constitution, to open the Men's Club Rooms on a wider schedule, to agitate the spring election of the Tower staff, to place the Tower upon an assessment basis, and to secure greater student participation through student assemblies.

The Stout Student Association Advisory Board

THE Stout Student Association Advisory Board is organized to enact and enforce all regulations governing the student body, to further the interests of the students as members of The Stout Institute, and to make known their wishes to the administration.

The board consists of two members elected from each class, one man and one woman representative, and the four S. S. A. officers. The S. S. A. president acts as president and the S. S. A. vice-president as vice-president of the board. The two members from each class are elected the second week of school in the first semester and serve until June of the second semester.

This board meets in conjunction with the Joint Committee on Student Affairs to discuss or solve any problems which may arise during the course of the school year.

The 1931 Tower Staff

THE Staff of the 1931 Tower is grateful for the manner in which this publication has been accepted and supported by the school. The responsibility of publishing this year's book was assumed by the Junior Class.

In producing this book we have desired to compile a written record of the interests and events of our past year at Stout. We sincerely appreciate every effort of others to aid us in the accomplishment of our objective, and it is our hope that we have not failed.

The Stoutonia

THE year 1930-31 marked one of the most prosperous and successful years of existence for The Stoutonia. Student enthusiasm and student labor have carried it along through the last nine months in fine shape, and it emerged a worthy member of the veteran college newspaper group.

Primarily, The Stoutonia is the official voice of the school. Much space has necessarily been devoted to setting before the reading public the accomplishments and aims of the institution. On the other hand, the columns have always been thrown open to student opinion, and the staff has made a special effort to secure each week the interesting items pertaining to student activities and desires.

Various changes in staff personnel have been made throughout the year in order that the best of the student writing talent should serve the Stoutonia readers. That this secured results has been evident in the rising standard of the paper.

Putting management of the paper on a different basis at the beginning of the fall term has been in no little measure responsible for the success of the paper. As editor-in-chief, Miss Henriette Quilling served in conjunction with the managing editor, Mr. George Guy. Both editors had had experience which gave them a highly workable background for their duties.

An editorial board was created composed of four associate editors who met weekly with the editor-in-chief and the managing editor to plan the paper for the coming week. In this way, the old element of chance and neglected assignments was eliminated. In addition, the paper took on a workmanlike and mechanically balanced appearance comparable to that of a metropolitan daily.

The Stoutonia occupies the unique position of being one of the very few college papers in the United States both written and published by the students. The entire production, from the roughly drafted story, through the journey of linotyping, proof reading, headline writing, mechanical composition, and final printing, is the work of students. The Stoutonia in the past year has served five hundred students, a large number of local subscribers, and hundreds of alumni scattered throughout the United States and five foreign countries.

The Stout Typographical Society

AS in the past, the Stout Typographical Society has functioned as one of the college's most prominent and worthwhile organizations.

The club has had many interesting activities this year. Among these were initiations, smokers, and regular meetings, with short talks by faculty members, printing instructors, and students. Regular meetings were held every two weeks on Wednesday evenings at seven-thirty.

Lynwood Hall

UNTIL the summer of 1930, Lynwood Hall was used as a women's dormitory. In September of that year, it was remodeled, enlarged, partially refurnished, and opened as a men's dormitory. The Freshmen, a large number of Sophomores, and a few upper classmen live at the hall.

The organization within the hall is governed by the following: Henry Lewis, President; Arthur Dehlinger, Vice-President; Clarence Wauer, Secretary; John Hockel, Treasurer; and a resident preceptor acting as chief adviser. A committee of seven men co-operate with the officers and preceptor in fixing all campus sentences and fines.

At the beginning of the second semester Mr. Harold Hyer succeeded Mr. Fabian Schrank as resident preceptor of Lynwood Hall.

Bertha Tainter Hall

Bertha Tainter Hall houses about twenty students, most of whom are juniors and seniors, a few being sophomores. Its location on the shore of Lake Menominee makes the Hall a very delightful home for the girls.

The Stout "S" Club

THE Stout "S" Club was organized to create a better school spirit, to boost athletics, and to award sweaters to every man earning his first letter in basket ball or football. The club has also arranged with the larger newspaper corporations for reports on all football and basket ball games played, and for the publishing of other news of interest to the public.

Winter

*Stand by my side and turn, I pray,
On the lake below thy gentle eyes;
The clouds hang over it, heavy and gray,
And dark and silent the water lies;
And out of the frozen mist the snow
In wavering flakes begins to flow;
Flake after flake
They sink in the dark and silent lake.*

*Yet look again, for the clouds divide;
A gleam of blue on the water lies;
And far away on the dark hillside,
A sunbeam falls from the opening skies;
But the hurrying host that flew between
The cloud and the water no more is seen;
Flake after flake,
At rest in the dark and silent lake.*

—William Cullen Bryant

A great and wise president is one who happens to be in office when everyone is making money.

December

1. Nursery School Book and Toy exhibit. Bitters cuts classes to wheel the walking duck.
2. We think: The laziest man in the world is one who refuses to labor under a delusion.
6. Tacky Drag. Wallin's minstrels star in "Sing, You Sinners".
8. Count von Luckner. Moral: Lighthouse keeping isn't all it's cracked up to be.
9. Co-eds furnish model house.
10. Miss Smith leaves us. We'll miss her.
11. "S" Club sponsors "Half-Shot at Sunrise".
12. Printers travel to Cities. At conclusion of game of hearts, Otto advises Mr. Hague to "get a horse".
13. Reed (on a cold day): "Shucks, this weather isn't so hot."
16. We believe it's all right for co-eds to know their onions, provided they don't eat them.
17. Hyperians sponsor annual Berea exhibit. Japanese sale went over big.

One can always tell a tourist. He says the weather is rotten. The native says that it's unusual.

5. They called him Daniel because he was such a Boone to the family.
6. Joe: "I'd face death for you."
Mary: "Then why did you run away from that dog?"
Joe: "He wasn't dead."
7. Visitor: "How big is your ice-skating rink?"
Christy: "It seats three hundred."
10. Her teeth chattered, but he couldn't hear what they said.

When a man breaks a date, he generally has to. When a co-ed breaks a date, she generally has two.

12. History tells us that William the Silent was married five times. No wonder he was silent.
14. St. Valentine's Day. At last, Micheels found an appropriate valentine at Sniveley's.
16. At Stoutonia banquet, Christy: "How come the red nose, Carl?"
Roll: "It's blushing with pride to think that it's keeping out of other people's business."
17. "Kiss-a Me" presented. Hague and Dodson do their bit.
Men's Glee Club and Band broadcast from WTAQ. Rosie remembered the music.
20. River Falls here. We won, by golly, we won.
21. Circus. Now we know Hank Harmon missed his calling.
23. Grace: "Will you be at the cat show?"
Lu: "Oh yes!"
Grace: "I'll look out for your cage."
27. Stunt night. Large crowd sees splendid program.

March

2. Children's clothing exhibit proves interesting.
3. Mrs. Filler renders a delightful violin recital at assembly.

SOPHOMORES

Sophomore Class

BECAUSE our school is what the classes make it, each class must do its work the best it can. It has been the aim of the Sophomore Class to do its part well.

Among the duties of the Sophomore Class are the instruction and general care of the Freshmen. We feel that we have been not only strong and competent teachers but that we have also set an example which they may well follow.

We have contributed our share to the various activities of Stout, to the athletic, musical, literary, dramatic, and art organizations.

The friendships and contacts that we have made and are making in college are adding richness and pleasure to our lives. In this, our second year at Stout, we have strengthened old friendships and made new. Both our work and our play have brought us together in friendly groups.

Vitai Lampada

There's a breathless hush in the Close tonight—
    Ten to make and the match to win—
A bumping pitch and a blinding light,
    An hour to play the last man in.
And it's not for the sake of a ribboned coat,
    Or the selfish hope of a season's fame,
But his captain's hand on his shoulder smote—
    "Play up! play up! and play the game!"

The sand of the desert is sodden red—
    Red with the wreck of a square that broke—
The gatling's jammed with the colonel dead,
    And the regiment blind with dust and smoke.
The river of death has brimmed his banks,
    And England's far, and honor a name,
But the voice of a schoolboy rallies the ranks:
    "Play up! play up! and play the game!"

This is the word that year by year,
    While in her place the school is set,
Every one of her sons must hear,
    And none that hears it dare forget.
This they all with a joyful mind
    Bear through life like a torch in flame,
And, falling, fling to the host behind—
    "Play up! play up! and play the game!"

—Henry Newbolt

WINTER SPORTS

Basketball—1930-31

BASKETBALL started with a large number of boys reporting, several of whom were members of the squad which finished so well last year. A total of fifteen games was played, Stout winning ten and losing five. In the conference, five were won, three lost; a total of 410 to the opponents' 331 was made, or 27.3 points on offense and 22.1 points on defense. A well-rounded squad of twelve men carried the load of the season. A non-conference game with Hansen Furniture proved a little exciting for the first game. A visit to Carleton on its floor gave the team plenty of experience. A large floor and a seasoned team proved too much for the Blue Devils. The Menomonic Red Birds gave the shooters a chance to get their eye, and a visit to Winona Teachers helped in our experience and also in the win column. The last game before the holidays was with St. Mary's at Winona, when inability to make baskets beat us in a close game.

Our first conference game opened the first week after the Christmas holidays with La Crosse at La Crosse. A bad first half with our team holding the champions to one basket; the second half was the outstanding performance. Score 24-22. Stevens Point came to Stout next and in a good exhibition was beaten 31-18. Eau Claire, with the poorest team in years, visited and was beaten 42-25. St. Mary's, a much improved team, proved an exciting and battling team in a 25-20 win for Stout. In our journey to River Falls, a surprise which defeated and completely stopped our offense awaited us. The result was a 30-19 defeat. La Crosse came next and was an almost exact duplicate of the first game, La Crosse making two baskets in the second half. The score at the half was Stout 6—La Crosse 17. The score at the end of the game, Stout 21—La Crosse 25. A remarkable second half recovery and excellent work by the reserves raised the score.

Our journey to Eau Claire ended in exactly the same score as that of the previous game, 42-25. River Falls came here and our boys were "hot" and "on" both in floor-work and in basketball shooting. A wonderful game was played to break the jinx which has so long dominated Stout teams and the final was Stout 33—River Falls 17. Our journey to Stevens Point proved to be too long and tiresome; in a slow, listless game we emerged victorious, 23-20.

The season ended, but a challenge and a plea for charity brought the suits out of the mothballs, and Elmwood, winner of the Professional Championship of this district, was engaged, with the result that charity was helped somewhat and Stout established the superiority of the amateur over the professional by a 31-18 score.

The season was very successful, being the first one above 500% in a number of seasons; not only that, all but two of the twelve lettermen return next fall to continue on our championship march which was started this year, ending with wins over Eau Claire, Stevens Point, and Elmwood. One of our men made the all conference team, Stori. Buros and "Kermie" Anderson made the second team, and Spitznagle was given honorable mention.

We congratulate you on your season and look forward to a big year with a great team next year with everyone reporting.

LEON HAASE

Ott, the captain of this year's team, displayed unusual form. His spirit and fight kept the morale of the team on a razor edge. His ability to play either forward or guard positions made him a valuable asset to the team. He has one more year of competition.

EDWIN A. PAHL

Eddie's work in the pre-season games won him a forward berth. Although he was handicapped by size, his fight and ball handling ability made him a valuable player. His ability on defense proved a hoodoo to the opponent, especially in the River Falls game here. This fleet forward has two more years of competition.

CARL H. HOERNEMANN

Carl aided the team's defense. His work in the La Crosse game lineup proved him a stellar guard. Carl will be with us again next year.

KERMIT E. ANDERSON

Kermy, the boy from Ashland, was a most valuable center. His ability to get the ball off the backboard, combined with his clever shooting, many times saved the day for Stout. That Kermy was very seldom out-jumped at center greatly aided the Blue Devils' offense.

AXEL JOHNSON

Doc proved to be a capable ball handler and consistently did his bit toward the fine showing the team made this year. He always contributed to the score book when called into the play. His services will be missed next year.

FRED H. JOHNSON

Fritz, playing his usually consistent style of ball, was one of the main cogs in the Trainers' machine. His work in the La Crosse game here showed that he could always be depended upon. His best work was performed on the defense. He will be back with us again next year.

DAVID STORI

Dave, playing his first year, proved to be one of the most clever as well as one of the fastest men in the conference, winning for himself the position of all-conference guard. Because of his ability to dribble, he was the key man on offense. Much is expected of Dave next year.

JOE J. SPITZNAGLE

Spitz had a combination of speed and floorwork that was hard to beat. His unerring eye for the loop greatly aided the team's victory at Stevens Point. Great things are expected of him next year.

HERMAN R. BUROSS

Lovey, co-partner of Dave, played consistent ball. He could always be depended upon. He was equally proficient on both offensive and defensive. His best work was performed in the River Falls game. He will be back to aid the Blue Devils next year.

GUSTAVE E. CARLSON

"Ah", the diminutive forward, played exceptional ball this year. He was fast and always in the play. He will be back to aid the team next year.

STEVE A. CVENGROS

Stike, playing his third season of basketball for Stout, displayed unusual form on both the offense and defense. His work at center and forward was of a stellar type, particularly in the forward position.

ANSEL L. ANDERSON

Ans, although not participating in much competition, proved that he will be a valuable man in the next two years. His rangy build makes him a good man for the pivot position.

B Squad Basket Ball Team

COACH SCHRANK'S basket ball B team came through this year in great style, winning all of their games. Several men have showed promise and will no doubt make a strong bid for the varsity positions next year. Early in the season the different men who came out for the team were divided into two squads, one the varsity, the other the B squad. Several men from last year reported, together with the new men, to make up a very formidable aggregation and to carry the colors of the Stout B squad to a 100 percent year. The B squad was given the different team plays so that they might work them against the varsity. This practice certainly helped both squads to know more about the playing of the different plays of the conference teams. In working under these plays and as a unit, the B squad gained much valuable experience, which will make the men good material for the varsity next year.

Hylland, McNaughton, and Noble handled the forward positions in a formidable style, while Pierson, Decker, and Johnson handled the guard positions, with Steves playing center. Williams could be worked as center or as forward. Snyder also played fine ball. With many men of good caliber going to the varsity, much may be expected of the latter team next year.

Swimming

THE swimming tank, remodeled during the past year at great expense, is now one of the best pools in the state.

Interest in water sports has grown; the pool is in use during many hours of each day, being used for gymnasium classes, recreation periods, Red Cross life saving instruction, and competitive swimming events. In fact, the present interest in swimming is making it one of the college's most popular sports.

WOMEN'S ATHLETICS

Women's Athletic Association

DURING the past year, the women of the college have shown great interest in athletics. Through the Women's Athletic Association, through active participation in athletics and club work, they have been able to win the letter "S". Frances Inenfeldt, Henriette Quilling, Marietta DeCramer, Georgia Aber, and Josephine Edinger were awarded the letter last year. During the present year, Clarysse Ness, Alice Ostrum, Mildred Haggard, and Lois Lamon won the "S".

The women who received the letter last year entered the competition for the miniature loving cups, which are the highest awards for excellence in women's athletics at Stout. The winners were Georgia Aber, Josephine Edinger, and Marietta DeCramer.

Flashball

AFTER many close contests between classes, the Seniors won the flashball title for the year 1931. The first game was between the Frosh and the Sophomores, the score being a 5 all tie. The Seniors defeated the Freshman girls by the close score, 6-7. Again the Freshmen played the large score of 11-3. Then the Seniors defeated the Juniors 4-5, thus giving the Seniors the undisputed title for flashball.

Basket Ball

THE Sophomore team won the title for the interclass championship in basket ball. This is the second year that this team has been victorious. The first game was played between the Freshmen and the Sophomores, the latter winning by an overwhelming score of 9—33. The Junior team easily defeated the Seniors 27—7. The Frosh were victorious when they played against the Seniors, the score being very close, 14-15. The Juniors forfeited their chance to be victors to the Sophomores, thereby making the class of 1934 the interclass champions.

There were several girls who did outstanding work in basketball this year. The high point scorers were: C. Ness, with 36 points; L. Hebl, with 34 points; and I. Nienow, with 26 points.

Swimming

IN the most successful swimming meet ever held at Stout, the Junior class came out on top with the Senior class taking second place. The captain of the Junior group, Janet Evans, won the individual honors.

The relay between classes offered excellent entertainment. The Junior team, made up of Janet Evans, Catherine Ebner, Katherine Graslie, and Grayce Quarters, won first place by several yards.

In diving, Grayce Quarters won first place, Janet Evans second.

The underwater swim was won by a Sophomore, Carol Sieburns, who swam ninety-seven feet. Grayce Quarters, swimming ninety-three feet, won second place.

The honors for strokes went to Catherine Ebner of the Junior class; Frances Inenfeldt, a Senior, won second honors; Laura Andreassen third.

The Manual Arts Players

OUR aim is to maintain a high standard of dramatics in our college. We are a group of college students, who have a common interest, and, as loyal members of our club, we must co-operate and perform faithfully any duties given to us in order that we may attain the standards we have set for ourselves. In order to be elected to membership in the Manual Arts Players, a student must have evidenced ability in dramatics and have shown a willingness to do good work in whatever he has attempted.

Manual Arts Players

"Quality Street"

Presented by the Manual Arts Players
May 2, 1930

THE play, "Quality Street", portrays life in England at the time of the Napoleonic Wars, and the cast was costumed in accordance with the period. The play was a charming fantasy and the period costumes presented a delightfully colorful and picturesque attraction.

“Tons of Money”

Presented by the Manual Arts Players

October 17, 1930

IN “Tons of Money”, a character farce by Will Evans and Valentine, the audience looks into a certain type of English home. Aubrey Allington, the head of the family, is a very sensitive and financially embarrassed Englishman. A large fortune left to certain heirs is the basis of the plot.

Louise Allington, Aubrey’s wife, keeps the plot active by making her husband ridiculous. In the end he is no better off than at the start, the inheritance being one pound, four shillings, and a half penny.

Hyperian Society

THE Hyperian Society is one of the three social organizations for the girls of The Stout Institute. The club has a threefold purpose of promoting social life among its members, of supporting school activities and school interests, and of doing active social work in the community.

Before Christmas, the Hyperians gave a party for some of the poor children of the city. During the months of March, April, and May the society conducted a children's story hour on Saturday mornings. The society also provides a few necessities for a child in whom it is interested.

Men's Glee Club

THE Men's Glee Club consists of members chosen at the beginning of each year by competitive try-outs.

Our aim is to develop musical talent as well as poise and ease through public appearance. Both the classical and lighter types of glee club work are stressed.

The club gave concerts in some of our neighboring cities. Of particular interest were the concerts which were broadcast over radio station W. T. A. Q., Eau Claire, Wisconsin.

Stout Band

THE Stout Band was organized in 1922. All students who play instruments and are interested in fostering music at Stout are eligible. Rehearsals are held regularly every Tuesday evening.

From time to time the band furnishes music for the football and basketball games and for the various student activities in and out of assembly. In the spring several outdoor concerts are given for the people of Menomonie.

It is better to have loved and lost—much better.

4. Carol: "Good morning, Professor."
Prof.: "Well, what of it? I didn't make it."
6. Stoutonia issues announcement of rating sheets.
7. Stout trims the Elmwood Yellow Jackets in a charity game.
12. The band gives it to us in assembly. The two solo numbers were exceptionally good.
17. The boys broadcast again. They are pleasing the radio audience.
19. M. A. P.'s present "The Neighbors." We sure did laugh. Dean Bowman hopes we'll have three thousand dollars' worth of fun during Easter recess.
20. A Spring Style Show parades to a packed house. The Stout clothing exhibit wasn't so slow.
21. Carl announces his intention to stag the Prom.

A college man likes a girl beautiful and dumb,—beautiful enough to please him, but dumb enough to like him.

- 23. Stori makes the all-conference basketball team. We're proud of you, Dave.
  - 24. A popular person is one who enjoys being bored.
  - 26. Freshman assembly. They told the Sophs.
  - 27. Two's company; three's a crowd, in any telephone booth.
  - 28. Red: "You look unusually nice this morning."
Eldrid: "Yes, by contrast."

April

- 1. Don't laugh! You'll bite, too.
- 2. Faculty praises rating sheets.
- 3-6. Easter recess.
- 7. Everybody bankrupt,—after having spent three thousand dollars on fun.
- 8. New scenery for the M. A. P.'s.
- 9. Faculty members buy new cars. ....
- 10. Stoutonia out a half hour early.
- 11. Sprig has cub. Pete and Prebe pick posies.
- 13. Bill Murray used mayonnaise dressing in absence of stacomb. Made a big hit with the women.
- 14. Stout boys visit Colfax High School,—prospecting.

A bachelor is a fellow who didn't have a car when he was young.

15. Tower goes to press. Maybe.
  17. Carl Roll announces Prom queen.
  20. Many alumni back for spring vacations.
Dating rate raised temporarily.
  21. Professor Ray shows what the better dressed are wearing this season.
  22. Wilson Creek open. Orpheum balcony deserted.
  27. We heard: The wedding guest he beat his breast,
The bells began to toll,
But still the stud refused to go
Into the buttonhole.
  30. "My deah! I feah you have rent youah tuxedo!"
"Not rent, sweetheart,—borrowed."

May

1. There may be more women than men in the world; but I bet that fact wouldn't be believed tonight.
2. Junior Prom the last word in social events.
4. Administration charts and canoeing conflict.

"Of course universities are full of knowledge—the freshmen bring a little in, and the seniors take little away, so it accumulates."

—President Lowell of Harvard.

5. I'm going to sell books this summer, so I'll be seeing you.
7. Are you doing anything for charity?
Yes. I'm working for my father.
8. Stout sluggers have good season.
9. Paradise Valley and posie pickers synonymous.
10. Mother, there is a blind man at the door.
Tell him we don't want any.
(Better read this again.)
15. Tower issued to students. Also maybe.
16. Faculty women entertain Senior women.
18. Love is the illusion that one woman differs from the rest.
24. Baccalaureate address.
25. Senior reception by Deans Price and Bowman.
26. Field day.
27. Class day.
28. We commence to commence to commence.
29. Goodbye!

The Freshman Class

THE class of 1934 aspires to be the greatest class ever to have attended The Stout Institute, wishing to claim that distinction by virtue not only of numbers but of achievements. That is a lofty aim in any college where the competition is as keen as it is at Stout.

We make no vain boast that we have really realized that hope; we do claim that our record is promising. Though at first considered merely a surging mob, we had the strength and the organization necessary to vanquish the so-called mighty Sophomores. We have become an active group in the college with a good representation in every extra-curricular activity.

We have made good records not only in outside activities but in the class room as well. With our present high standards, we should pass through our remaining years at Stout with colors flying.

SPRING SPORTS

Baseball

ALTHOUGH baseball had been discontinued for several years, at the first call for men a large number reported. New equipment and a fairly large schedule, including River Falls, Eau Claire, and St. Thomas, proved to be incentive, and the competition was good. The material was green, and of the rawest kind, but the spirit was excellent. Several inter-team games were played for experience; others were played with the Menomonie Blue Caps. The games were very well attended by large groups. There is good promise for the future of baseball in Stout's athletic program.

Track

ABOUT twenty-eight men reported for track. They worked whole-heartedly in preparation for meets with Eau Claire, Oshkosh, and Superior. After intensive preliminary work, the team was taken outside where the men worked for the development of form and endurance. The season was successful and great interest was shown.

WITH only two of last year's successful golf team returning, several tournaments and eliminations were held to determine the places on the team to represent the school. The conference singles and team championships, and a sweep in intercollegiate meets seem inevitable with the strong lineup Stout will put forth.

Girls' Glee Club

THE twenty-two members of the Girls' Glee Club form a group that is really interested in the study of the best in classical and modern music.

Chosen from the student body after a voice test, they are given the opportunity of learning and improving their sight reading, and of improving and developing their voices.

In addition to giving an annual spring concert, the club entertains the assembly several times during the year and takes part in the Christmas program.

Stout Rifle Club

ORGANIZED May 10, 1928, and affiliated shortly thereafter with the National Rifle Association, the club now consists of thirty-five members.

From May 1 to November 1, the shooting is done on the outdoor range with high-powered guns. During other months of the school year, the practice takes place on the indoor range with 22 caliber rifles.

Several matches have been fired against rifle teams of other schools and also against city teams.

Honor Awards for 1930

AT commencement time six students were the recipients of college honors. The Eichelberger Scholarships were awarded to two students from the Junior class and to two from the Sophomore class, on the basis of scholarship, personality, future possibilities, social attitude, and value to the school. Ardella Anderson and Ernest Christensen, Juniors, and Ethel Anderson and Robert Reick, Sophomores, each received the award of one hundred dollars.

The custom initiated in 1928 of giving honors to the two Freshmen who ranked highest in scholarship was again observed. The students honored were Belinda Hendrickson and Clifford Nauta.

Junior Prom

THE fifth annual Junior Promenade was one of the most elaborate affairs of the year. It was held as usual in the Stout Gymnasium which had been beautifully decorated in rainbow colors.

Miss Eldrid Wike, as Prom Queen, and Mr. Carl Roll, as Prom King, led the grand march.

We considered ourselves very fortunate in having Fred Dexter's Pennsylvanians to add to the gayety of the evening. They played five beautiful waltzes and nine peppy fox trots.

*From the misty shores of midnight,
touched with splendors of the moon,
To the singing tides of heaven, and the light more clear than noon,
Passed a soul that grew to manhood
till it was with God in tune.*

*Silence here—for love is silent,
gazing on the lessening sail;
Silence here, for grief is voiceless,
when the mighty minstrels fail;
Silence here—but far beyond us,
many voices crying, Hail!*

At the Crossroads

*You to the left and I to the right,
For the ways of men must sever—
And it well may be for a day and a night,
And it well may be for ever.
But whether we meet or whether we part
(For our ways are past our knowing)
A pledge to the heart from its fellow heart
On the ways we all are going!
Here's Luck!
For we know not where we are going.*

*You to the left and I to the right,
For the ways of men must sever,
And it well may be for a day and a night
And it well may be for ever!
But whether we live or whether we die
(For the end is past our knowing),
Here are frank hearts and an open sky,
Be a fair or an ill wind blowing!
Here's luck!
In the teeth of all winds blowing.

FOREWORD

THE 1931 Tower Staff has tried to make this book an innovation in annuals. Endeavoring to compile a record of the activities of the year in the order of their happening, we have made our theme the three seasons of Fall, Winter, and Spring.

We have devoted an entire section of the 1931 Tower to the Seniors. In accordance with our theme, this section comes at the end of their school life and at the "commencement" of their professional life.

We hope that this book may be a chronicle of pleasant memories.

Trees

*I think that I shall never see
A poem lovely as a tree.*

*A tree whose hungry mouth is prest
Against the earth's sweet flowing breast;*

*A tree that looks at God all day,
And lifts her leafy arms to pray;*

*A tree that may in Summer wear
A nest of robins in her hair;*

*Upon whose bosom snow has lain;
Who intimately lives with rain.*

*Poems are made by fools like me,
But only God can make a tree.*

—Joyce Kilmer

I hear lake water lapping with low sounds by the shore.
—W. B. Yeats

*The cherished fields
Put on their winter robe of purest white.*
—James Thomson

*No cloud above, no earth below.—
A universe of ice and snow!*

—J. G. Whittier

Once again
Do I behold these steep and lofty cliffs,
That on a wild secluded scene impress
Thoughts of more deep seclusion.
—William Wordsworth

Dedication

THE Stout Institute was taken over from private ownership and was made a state institution in 1911. Simultaneously provision was made for a State Board of Trustees which was identical in personnel with the State Board of Vocational Education.

Mr. H. E. Miles was the first President of the Board serving from 1911 to 1917. In 1917 Mr. E. W. Schultz, President of the Northfield Company of Sheboygan, succeeded to the presidency and has been in continuous service as president ever since that date, and Mr. Schultz has been a member of the Board of Trustees since its creation in 1911.

The Board of Trustees consists of eleven members, nine of whom are appointed by the Governor. Two members of the board are nominated in the act which created the board and serve as ex-officio members. They are Mr. John Callahan, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and Mr. Voyta Wrabetz, of the State Industrial Commission. Of the nine members of the board, three of them, as provided in the law, represent employers of labor, three are chosen from the employee group, and three represent agriculture. Mr. George P. Hambrecht, Director of Vocational Education for the State of Wisconsin, is Secretary of the Board of Trustees. The Board, unless otherwise specially convened, holds quarterly meetings for the transaction of its business on the fourth Tuesday of July, October, January, and April. The first three of these meetings are held in Milwaukee or Madison. The April meeting is usually held in Menomonie.

Therefore, on this, the twentieth anniversary of the creation of the Board of Trustees, and likewise, the twentieth anniversary of the creation of The Stout Institute as a state institution, we, the Class of 1932, dedicate this 1931 copy of the TOWER to the officers and members of the Board of Trustees in recognition of the two decades of service that these friends have unselfishly given to The Stout Institute.

Alma Mater

*On the banks of Lake Menomin
Stands our Alma Mater true
With tower high and brilliant "S";
For her we'll dare and do,
We'll sing her praises many,
We'll glorify her name,
And on throughout the years of time,
Our love for Stout proclaim.*

The Dignity of Teaching

TEACHING as a profession is each year becoming more highly respected. Year by year it is becoming less a vocation in which is gained the preparation and the experience for a more lucrative and a more permanent business. Young people now pretty generally expect to continue in the educational field when they have once entered it.

This favorable condition is due somewhat to the fact that the intelligent and directing forces in the molding of public sentiment demand preparation for teaching before one may begin to teach. It is due somewhat to the fact that teachers are better paid than formerly. It is due in a small way to a most important factor which almost within a decade has become a teaching incentive. Provision is now made for the comfortable retirement of teachers when the duties of effective leadership are ended. It is due in some measure to the fact that teachers are no longer a class unto themselves. They are as essentially like and as much a part of the community as are the members of other professions. One no longer apologizes for his part in the educational work of the state.

The specialist is now recognized in education just as he is recognized in medicine, law, and engineering. Stout graduates are and should be as definitely outstanding in their field as the specialists in any other profession. For this reason, Stout students are fortunate in their selection of a new and distinct field of education.

Stout students, however, must consistently continue research studies, studies in the science and literature of education and in industry, because the field of education which they have chosen is not stabilized. Educational procedures are no more established here than are the practices in the industrial operations nor in the distribution of products, nor yet in the efficiency of machines. We, more than any other group of teachers, must be influenced by social and industrial developments. Constant study lies at the foundation of success and progress.

Autumn

*The morns are meeker than they were,
The nuts are getting brown;
The berry's cheek is plumper,
The rose is out of town.
The maple wears a gayer scarf,
The field a scarlet gown.
Lest I should be old-fashioned,
I'll put a trinket on.*

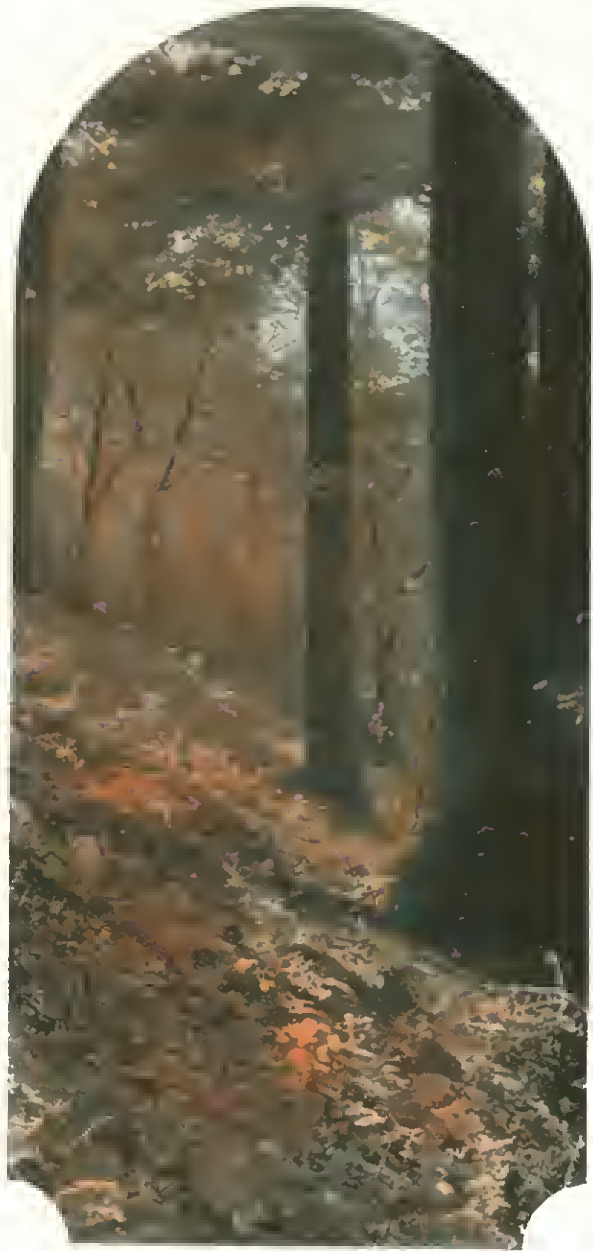

—Emily Dickinson

Autumn

*But see the fading
Many-colored woods,
Shade deepening over shade,
The country round
Imbrown; a crowning umbrage
Dusk and dun,
Of every hue, from wan
Declining green to sooty dark.*

Senior Class

WHEN graduation brings our college days to a close, we suddenly find ourselves at the goal toward which we have striven for the past four years. With its approach we realize more and more that it is but a step toward the attainment of a fuller life.

What we have gained through our contact with teachers and students at Stout has to a great measure depended upon what we have given. How we continue to grow will depend upon how we serve, for as we enter the teaching field we dedicate ourselves to Service. Our influence in shaping the life and character of youth will increase as the years go by, and our responsibility toward them is indeed great.

As we bid our farewell to our Alma Mater, let us take with us the fondest memories of our college days, and pledge ourselves to support the aims and principles for which our college stands, "for high ideals, for high attainment and ever higher attainment in mental growth through the acquisition and use of worthwhile knowledge, in skill of hand, in teaching ability, in sense of personal responsibility, in respect for the rights of others, in will and power to render worthy service."

—J. W. Dockar.

Class of 1931

WITH graduation goes freedom of a sort. You no longer are obliged to do set tasks at set times. You are not bound to co-ordinate your activities with those of the group. Certain restrictions imposed upon you for the good of the community in which you have been living will affect you now only as you choose to respect them. Without serious reflection, one might for a moment feel that there has come a release from responsibility. Such freedom, however, is never possible. With you, along the road that you will travel, in this particular decade of the '30's, your responsibility will be greater than it has been for many other people covering a long period of years.

You are living in a critical period—a period when civilization in its social, business, and religious standards is unsettled and uncertain. The race is in no sense sure of itself. Many educational agencies for profit are adding to the general turmoil of thought. No great philosopher stands at the crossroad to direct your way. The current literature of today is in no sense helpful.

There has been, recently, a lowering of business standards throughout the business world. Wealth, at any cost, has been dominant in the policies of individuals and corporations. If made as a general statement, that would hardly be true. It is, however, true that high ethical standards in business and business relationships have suffered tremendously during the years following the World War.

Moral standards have changed or are being interpreted in terms of more liberal thought. "The old fogey" and the "youthful radical" are ages apart. There is no accepted middle ground. The social senses are dulled so that no standard of honesty or justice or common law or of international good will seem to be worth fighting for. The new generation will have many problems to solve, many adjustments and readjustments to make. A revision of social and religious standards must follow, and somewhat later international understanding and good will must come.

You are now going out into this maelstrom of conflicting opinions, uncertain standards, and international prejudice. Your opportunity is unusual. Your responsibility will, therefore, be very great. Because of this opportunity to serve, you are to be congratulated. I am sure that in working for yourself you will be working for others, and I am just as firmly convinced that in working for others you will be working for yourself. You may not always get what you wish for, but you are pretty sure to get what you work for. The extent of your reward will be measured by your ambition, sincerity, and perseverance, and by your respect for yourself.

The world today lacks great leadership. It is woefully short of great teachers, great preachers, law-givers, and great statesmen. From the ranks of the college graduates of 1931 may come a commanding personality capable of leading a puzzled people into highways of sanity and safety.

There remains only one road to national security and world peace. The masses must be taught to think independently. They must be made to read and interpret the history of the ages in the light of present conditions. They must someday insist upon sane legislation beneficial to all classes. They will then obey willingly all laws imposed because of their real merit and justice; and respect for law and order will be restored. Someday we shall distinguish between the politician and the statesman. Then we shall be prepared to judge questions on merit rather than on prejudice.

Here for the present is your responsibility and your opportunity. Your work will be well done when you train for efficient employment and for independent thinking those for whom you are responsible, and additional rewards will come when you influence your community to higher standards of life and living.

Thank You

AS this, the second publication of the Tower by the Junior Class is completed, we, the Tower Staff, wish to express our appreciation to all who have made this publication possible. To the advisers and other instructors for their helpful counsel, to the student body for generous response to all requests, to the townspeople who so generously advertised in the school directory (a Tower project to help pay the expenses of the book), we express our sincere thanks.
